WEBINAR SERIES

OR TODAY

Thursday, November 19, 2015, 2:00pm ET

PRESENTERS: LAURIE DEIHS AND KRIS KILGORE

The presentation will feature co-presenters Laurie Deihs, RN, MS, MPH and Kris Kilgore, RN, BSN.

Laurie is the AAAHC Assistant Director of Education and has been a nurse for over 25 years. She has been involved in health care education for over 18 years and has over 20 years of experience, combining creativity and analytical skills in simulation-based instructional design and delivery for health care settings.

Kris is the Administrative Director for Grand Rapids Ophthalmology Surgical Care Center. She also holds the position of AAAHC Surveyor and Faculty.

This 60-minute webinar will provide an overview how to implement your internal emergency disaster plan at your organization, using case-based scenarios and simulation training.

In 1979 the Steelers won the Super Bowl. Saturday Night Fever was the album of the year. And AAAHC began accrediting ambulatory health care organizations.

We've been raising the bar on ambulatory care through accreditation for 35 years. The secret of our success? Our peer review. AAAHC surveyors are physicians, nurses, anesthesiologists, medical directors and administrators. Which is why organizations routinely heap praise on us for our consultative and educational survey process. And why we are the leader in ambulatory accreditation.

If you would like to know more about AAAHC accreditation, call us at 847-853-6060. Or email us at info@aaahc.org. Or you can visit our web site at www.aaahc.org.
